HOW TO FIND A FILTER CARTRIDGE REPLACEMENT USING THE UNICEL REPLACEMENT GUIDE

1. Measure the outside diameter of the cartridge (in inches, +/- 1/32").
2. Measure the cartridge length (in inches, +/- 1/16") including end caps but excluding any handles or other extensions. Unicel recommends measuring through the center (if possible) rather than along the outside edge.
3. Identify the cartridge outside edge end cap configuration using the chart on the opposing page. If the top and/or bottom is "open," measure the inside diameter (in inches, +/- 1/32") of the top and/or bottom.
4. Record the OEM name and model of the filter the cartridge came out of (if possible).
5. Count the number of pleats (+/- 2) and note whether there is a center core or not.

The information gathered in 1-5 above can then be used to identify a proper replacement. On pages 1 to 21 of the Replacement Guide, Unicel cartridges are grouped into "series" based on the outer diameter (O.D.) of the cartridge. For example, the 2000 Series is comprised of cartridges between 2 and 2.99 inches in O.D.; the 9000 Series is comprised of cartridges with an O.D. of 9 inches or greater. Note that if the cartridge O.D. is either, for example, 4-15/16" or 6-15/16" it may be necessary to check the next series, the 5000 Series and 7000 Series, respectively.

Within each series, cartridges are listed sequentially by O.D. and cartridge length and identified according to end cap i.d. and configuration, pleat count, media, and respective OEM.

Unicel cartridges listed between horizontal lines are interchangeable.

GLOSSARY OF FILTRATION TERMS

Backwash: The process of cleaning the filter medium or septum by reversing the flow of water through the filter.

Blinding: Filling in and clogging of a filter medium caused by entrapment of particles from a filtered liquid. When the medium becomes “blind,” an increase in differential pressure and reduction in flow results.

Bridging: Debris which arches, or bridges, the individual pleats in the filter cartridge or between two filter elements.

Cartridge Filter: A filter that utilizes a pleated, porous medium as a filtering material.

Clarification: The process by which the filter removes progressively smaller particles on each successive turn over, thus improving efficiency and extending the cycle life. Cartridge filters use the clarification process.

Clarifier (also called coagulant or flocculent): A chemical that coagulates and neutralizes suspended particles in water. There are two types of clarifiers: inorganic salts of aluminum or iron and water-soluble organic polyelectrolyte polymers.

Coagulation: The process by which very small, finely divided solid particles -- often colloidal in nature -- are agglomerated into larger particles.

D.E.: Abbreviation for diatomaceous earth, fossil-like skeletons of microscopic water plants called diatoms.

Differential Pressure: (1) The difference in pressure between two given points. (2) The combined pressure caused by the debris, filter cake, precoat and septum, expressed as ΔP (“delta P”). (3) The effluent pressure minus the influent pressure.

Effluent: Fluid which has passed through a filter. Also called the filtrate.

Feed: The mixture of particles and fluid that is introduced into the filter. Terms used synonymously include “influent” and “incoming slurry.”

Filter: Verb: To pass fluid containing suspended particles through a filter medium whereby the particles are separated from the fluid. Noun: A “device” for carrying out the filtration process, consisting of the filter medium and suitable hardware for constraining and supporting it in the path of the fluid.

Filter Aid: Any material (usually diatomaceous earth) that enhances the separation of solids from liquids in the filtration process.

Filter Cake: The combined layers of solids, precoat, and debris removed in the filtration process and accumulated on the surface of the filter medium.

Filter Cycle: The operating time between cleaning or backwash cycles.

Filter Medium: The permeable material such as diatomaceous earth, sand, or polyester non-woven material used to separate suspended particles from liquid.

Filtrate: Fluid that has passed through a filter. Also called the effluent.

Filtration: The process by which particles are separated from a liquid by passing through a permeable material.

Filtration Rate: Flow in gallons per minute (GPM) through one square foot of filter medium. For residential pools, the filtration rate should be 2 GPM per square foot of D.E. filter surface area and 1 GPM per square foot of cartridge filter surface area. For most commercial pools, the filtration rate should be 1 GPM per square foot of D.E. filter surface area and .375 GPM per square foot of cartridge filter surface area. Flocculation: The process by which small dispersed particles combine together to form larger size particles which can be removed by the filter. The result of adding an electrolyte to the water.

Influent: Dirty or unfiltered water introduced to the filter. Also referred to as “feed” or “incoming slurry.”

OEM: Original Equipment Manufacturer or brand name.

Micron Size: Expressed as micrometer (μm), a unit of measurement equal to $1/1,000,000$ of a meter (.0000394”). 40 micron is considered the smallest size particle visible to the human eye. A red blood cell is 6-8 micrometers large; one grain of table salt is roughly 100 micrometers in size.

Permeability: Expressed in cubic feet per minute (CFM), the resistance to flow through a media. The lower the perm number, the greater the resistance. The permeability of a filter media is a quality control measure for cartridge and D.E. filter materials.

Polymer: High molecular weight organic compound whose structure can be represented by repeated small units. Synthetic polymers are formed by condensation polymerization of monomers. If two or more monomers are involved, a copolymer is formed.

Porosity: (1) The degree of open area between the fibers. (2) The void area which exists in the structure.

Reemay: A registered trademark of Reemay, Inc. Originally developed by DuPont, Reemay is made of continuous filament, 100% polyester fibers. The process by which these fibers are drawn, randomly laid and thermally bonded is known as “spunbonding.”

Trilobal: The three sided fiber formed by drawing polyester resin through a die or spinneret. The basic shape of Reemay fibers.

Turbidity: (1) the characteristic or property of a liquid that causes it to absorb or scatter light. (2) A measurement of water cloudiness or haziness caused by micro-organisms, algae, or suspended fine particles.

Useful information:

One cubic foot of water equals 7.48 gallons.

One cubic foot of water weights 62.2 pounds@70 degrees F.

One gallon of water weighs 8.32 pounds.

1 PPM = 1 pound per 120,000 gallons.

To find:

Circumference of a circle = diameter x 3.1416.

Diameter of a circle = circumference x .31931.

Area of a circle = diameter² x .7854.

Total gallons = cubic feet x 7.48.

Side of a square x 1.128 = diameter of equal circle.

Temperature conversion:

.566 x (degrees F - 32) = degrees C.

(1.8 x degrees C) + 32 = degrees F.

How to Compute the Area (Square Footage) of a Cartridge

- (1) Count the number of pleats and measure the pleat amplitude/height (in inches).
- (2) Measure the length of the cartridge (in inches) excluding the end caps or any handles or other extensions -- the “useable surface area.”
- (3) Multiply the number of pleats by 2, and multiply that number by the pleat amplitude. Multiply this total by the length of the useable surface area, and divide by 144.

For example, a cartridge with 75, .625” pleats and a 9-1/4” long useable surface area has an area of 6.02 square feet:

$$(75 \times 2 \times .625 \times 9.25) / 144 = 6.02 \text{ sq. ft.}$$

Unicel is a dba of Meissner Mfg. Co., Inc. Whereas Meissner Mfg. Co., Inc. is a private label manufacturer and produces both filter cartridges and grids for original equipment companies under their brand name, Unicel filter cartridges and grids are sold strictly as replacement for OEM equipment. Moreover, not all products listed in the Unicel Replacement Guide were originally manufactured under private label by Meissner Mfg. Co., Inc. In those instances, every effort has been made to make the Unicel replacement element equal or superior to the brand name product. While the majority of the Unicel line is built to OEM specifications, Unicel does not represent that their cartridges and grids are either manufactured or endorsed by the original equipment manufacturer.

Unicel®

For over 50 years, Unicel has been the industry leader in manufacturing filter elements for the pool and spa industry.

Unicel cartridges are manufactured with 100% synthetic filter media. There are no resins, surfactants, or binders to break down or leach out during the filtration process.

Unicel filter medias are produced using the latest technology in spun-bonding equipment. This process produces continuous filament filter medias with exceptionally high isotropic strength.

Unicel cartridges are capped with vinyl plastisol specifically formulated with FDA acceptable components. As a result, Unicel cartridges are ideal as pre-filter or primary sediment filters in potable water applications.

Unicel cartridges are comprised of pleated material to maximize dirt holding capacity and extend the time between filter change outs.

Unicel filter medias do not contain "cellulose fibers" and are therefore mildew and rot resistant.

Unicel filter media, made without binders, offers a high degree of porosity. This allows the media to function as both a surface filter and, to some degree, a tortuous path depth filter.

Unicel filter cartridges are ideal for all types of water and light industrial applications.

Things to Consider When Purchasing a Cartridge Replacement

- 💧 Does your cartridge meet the specifications of the NSF certification for your filter system? NSF certifies systems based on a stated square footage and type of media specified by the system manufacturer.
- 💧 Is the basis weight of the media in your cartridge the same as that specified by the system manufacturer? Assure you are not getting a cartridge with media that weighs 3 ounces per square yard in a system that specifies elements with 4 ounces per square yard. "4 oz media" contains 33% more fibers by weight than "3 oz media". This significantly increases its durability, filtration matrix and dirt trapping ability and provides for longer, more efficient filtration.
- 💧 Is the media in your cartridge finished with a "flat bond" or a "point bond"? The point bonding process fuses the area on and around the bond for no or low water flow; this effectively reduces the surface area of your element up to 20%!
- 💧 Does the square footage of your cartridge match that of your filter systems? Under or oversizing your elements may not yield the best system performance.
- 💧 Does your replacement cartridge have support bands like the original from the system manufacturer did? The support bands on a cartridge play an important role in maintaining pleat spacing and preventing pleat bunching in the tank and during cleaning.
- 💧 How does your cartridge balance "dirt holding" and "cleanability?" Dirt holding and cleanability are a tradeoff. Cartridges that hold more dirt are going to be harder to clean.

CARTRIDGE CLEANING INSTRUCTIONS

FOR CHLORINE USERS

When should a cartridge element be cleaned?

For swimming pools, clean the cartridge when the filter canister pressure reaches 8 PSI above the initial system or new cartridge starting pressure. For spas, establish a routine cartridge cleaning schedule based on the amount of spa usage. If Baquacil® is used as a sanitizer, the filter element must be cleaned with Baqua Clean® before any cartridge cleaner is used (Step 4).

Please refer to
"Cartridge Cleaning
Supplement for Biguanide Users."

What is the procedure to clean my cartridge?

1. Remove the cartridge from the filter housing following the manufacturer's instructions.
2. Use a garden hose with a straight flow nozzle to wash down the filter element. Work from the top down, holding the nozzle at a 45 degree angle, and wash all the pleats with emphasis between pleats.
3. Rinse until all dirt and debris are gone.
4. For all spa cartridges and elements used in swimming pools where perspiration, suntan lotions, and other oils are present, soak the element for at least one hour (overnight is most effective) in
 1. a commercial filter cleaner; or
 2. one cup trisodium phosphate (TSP) to five gallons water; or
 3. one cup dishwasher detergent to five gallons of water.
5. Rinse the cartridge again to remove oils and cleaning solution.

6. If the filter has a coating of algae, calcium carbonate (residue from calcium hypochlorite), iron, or other minerals, soak the cartridge in a solution of one part muriatic acid to twenty parts water until all bubbling stops. WARNING: Failure to remove all oils and cleaning solution before acid soaking will result in a permanent restriction of water flow and cause premature cartridge failure.

7. Rinse the cartridge clean and reassemble housing.

Cleaning Instructions video on the Unicel website

NOTE: Unicel does not recommend the use of diatomaceous earth (DE) with cartridge filters. DE particles will become trapped in the body of the media and shorten cartridge life. If desired, a cellulose fiber (synthetic DE) can be used in moderation.

WARNING: Wear rubber gloves and safety glasses when using acid and chlorine. Do not add water to acid. Do not mix chlorine and acid.
